Note for U.S. and Colombian contractors importing equipment into Colombia:

INL Bogota may assist the Contractor in obtaining duty-free and tax-free entry from the Government of Colombia for all products to be delivered and imported under this contract. The Contractor shall promptly coordinate with the assigned COR, or in the absence of an assigned COR with the INL Bogota Logistics Supervisor, in order to obtain detailed instructions pertaining to required documentation, shipping instructions, and marking requirements. The Contractor shall be solely responsible for any and all taxes, duties, and any other charges that are assessed as a result of the Contractor's fault, negligence, failure to follow the COR's instructions, or failure to provide timely, accurate, and complete documentation.

The Contractor shall be solely responsible for the transportation of all items delivered under this contract from the initial port of entry until the final delivery destination stated in this contract and for all incidental charges (e.g. warehousing, storage, insurance, demurrage). Inspection and acceptance of products delivered under this contract will be made by an authorized representative of the Government at the final delivery destination. As such, payment will not be authorized until the items have been delivered to the final destination and have been inspected and accepted by an authorized representative of the U.S. Government.

The duty-free and tax-free entry processes, bureaucratic in nature, might experience unexpected delays and may on occasion require the submission of additional documentation. Notwithstanding any other contract term and condition to the contrary, the parties to this contract hereby agree that the contract price will not be adjusted due to delays in processing the duty-free and tax-free entry of products to be delivered under this contract or for the production of any and all documentation that might be required to process such entry permits.
